Then again, Sue Eckenswiller said, "we came up with the idea when our daughter was born near Christmas, and our Christmas tree fell over in the middle of the night.

She and her husband, Grant, worked on a four-legged base with a clamping system that both secures and straightens the tree, and they made the water reservoir big enough to hold a gallon. So far so good: The Omega was sold out on Target.com recently, but might be found at Ace Hardware stores or online at www.omegatreestand.com, $29.99 plus shipping.
